

2nd Workshop on Behavioral and Experimental Health Economics
McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, February 19-20, 2015

Following on the success of the 1st Workshop on Behavioral and Experimental Health Economics held at the University of Oslo this past January, McMaster University is pleased to host a 2nd Workshop. Like the first, this workshop aims to bring together economists who apply behavioral economics and experimental methods in health economic research to present and discuss their research papers.

We welcome contributions on all topics within health economics applying experimental methods, be it laboratory or field studies, and behavioral economics modeling. We plan for a small workshop in which each paper is allocated one hour (45 minutes for presentation, 15 minutes for discussion) so participants can present their work in detail.

If you are interested in presenting a paper, please submit either the full paper (if available), or an extended abstract of up to 1000 words that addresses each of the following: objectives, methods, results, and conclusions. Send submissions to: David Cameron (camerd@mcmaster.ca).

Important dates: The deadline for abstract submission is October 15, 2014. Authors will be notified regarding the acceptance of their paper beginning November 15, 2014.

Venue: McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada.

Registration Fee: US$ 200 (May be waived depending on funding received).

Organizing Committee: Dr. Neil Buckley (York University), Dr. Katherine Cuff (McMaster University), Dr. Jeremiah Hurley (McMaster University), Dr. Stuart Mestelman (McMaster University), and Dr. Daniel Wiesen (University of Cologne).

Scientific Committee: Dr. Neil Buckley (York University), Dr. Jeremiah Hurley (McMaster University), Dr. Heike Hennig-Schmidt (University of Bonn), and Dr. Daniel Wiesen (University of Cologne).
